The proffered changes in the programming have finally taken place. Generally you will hear news and public affairs programs each weeknight between 7:00 and 8:30 pm. Most of the topics discussed on these programs cannot be heard in such depth on any T.V. or radio station in the Northwest (nor can they be had in the newspapers). Many programs have changed times slightly; of special note:
TUESDAY NIGHT LIVE AT KRAB and BALTIC'S
 BOP STOP move from 8:00 to 9:00 on Tuesdays;
INDIAN RADIO NEWS moves from Tuesdays at 7:00 to Wednesdays at 7:30, and is followed by ENVIRONMENTAL NEWS. CANTONESE TIME moves from 7:00 to 8:00 on Thursdays. KRAB's weekly drama and spoken arts feature, ...YOUR EAR, moves from 7:30 to 8:00 on Fridays.

RETURNING PROGRAMS

FRINGE BENEFIT - Saturdays, 4:30 pm
FIDDLER KRAB - Mondays, 8:30 pm

NEW PROGRAMS

Saturdays 11:30 am - weekly
IAMB, SAID THE LAMB. Beginning April 16, Art Wicks presents poets reading their works (local and national), as well as criticism, commentaries, new publications, and a poets calander.

Sundays 11:30 am - monthly
COUNTRY DOCTOR. The folks at Country Doctor on Capital Hill will be up at the KRAB studios once a month to discuss various aspects of the medical world.

Mondays 8:00 pm - monthly
UNION W.A.G.E. The women of Union W.A.G.E. with a once a month feature on working women; history and current problems.

Saturdays 5:30 pm - bi-weekly
AMATEUR SOCCER NEWS. A news and events program for the growing number of North-westerners who play the game for fun.

The big event for the international news this month is our new time--7pm Monday through Friday. We expect to reach a larger audience with this move and hope our current listeners will move with us. KRAB is increasing its interest and commitment to alternative news programming, and this schedule change is part of that commitment. A number of people have requested that we broadcast an international news report at various times throughout the day, and we have a number of options here, including taping the 7pm news for playback late in the evening or the following morning. Please let us know your schedule requests and we'll make every effort to work them in.

Our three area reports will moving up in the schedule. Talking Drums (Africa) will be on Mondays, Latin America Review will be on Tuesdays, and Asia Review will be on Thursdays, all at 7:30. Native American News, produced by Indians Into Communication, will move to Wednesdays at 7:30, and the Environmental News produced by Phil Andrus and Elizabeth Grady will follow at 8:00.

Most people know what the British Broadcasting Corp. is, but few people are familiar with our other news source, Internews. Internews, located in Berkeley, consists primarily of five reporters; Jan Austin, Banning Garrett, Steve Talbot, Elizabeth Farnsworth, and Russ Stetler, with whose voices our listeners are familiar. They also have a group of volunteers and support staff. Internews has three high-powered short wave receivers tuned to frequencies everywhere in the world, as well as AP, Reuters, and Agence France Presse wires. They supplement these sources with subscriptions to a number of daily and weekly news sources: Le Monde, NY Times, Aviation Weekly, etc., and a variety of clipping sources. Internews publishes a bi-weekly paper of their own, the International bulletin, in addition to their daily audio feeds to radio stations. We use the bulletin extensively in our background and analysis reports for the international news, and KRAB listeners can receive the bulletin for one year for $7 (Normally it's $8). Write Internews at PO Box 4400, Berkeley, Ca. 94704, for more information.

ABOUT KRAB

KRAB is a listener supported non-profit radio station located in the heart of Seattle. There are no commercials interrupting broadcasts or influencing programs on KRAB. Basically, everything that is unavailable on commercial radio can be found at 107.7 FM. With a broadcast day of 18-24 hours, the programming runs a full spectrum of community interest, thought, and imagination: from renaissance music to international news, from afternoon jazz to Greek folk music, or maybe a new radio play from the BBC or an interview with Herbie Hancock; And how about Chinese radio hour, Latin music, environmental news and documentaries, bluegrass, city council meetings, Tuesday Night Live, Moon Over Morocco, community political reports.

KRAB has something for everyone to appreciate and support. And now is the time to get involved in supporting your radio station. Listener sponsorship is KRAB's only means of income. Whether you can be a $500 patron or a $25 subscriber, your contribution is warmly received (and don't forget tax deductible). With a subscription you'll receive the monthly program guide in the mail.

The people at KRAB urge you to turn your dial to 107.7 and become part of the freedom that is KRAB. If you have any questions, give us a call at 325-5110, we like to talk to all our friends.

KRAB is a collage of personalities and programs that directly represent the structure and purpose of an aware community.

We urgently need your support--Do it today.

LETTERS:

Dear KRAB

We've been listening since December 1962. We've been subscribers for nearly that long. We've contributed to the station and have been volunteers. I'm writing to complain.

Too Much Jazz

A friend of ours said yesterday, "What's happened to KRAB?" "Everytime I tune in all I get is jazz." "It seems to have really gone down hill." That made us very unhappy.

I used to proselytize for KRAB a lot and try to get new friends to listen and subscribe. Lately I don't feel much like doing this as most of our new friends like folk and ethnic music and you seem to be deemphasizing our favorites in favor of jazz. This makes me very sad.

Too Much Jazz

And not all of it the best sounds either. Sounds like the Muzak a lot to me.

Yours,
Leonard Good

Dear KRAB

Just a note to let you know I really enjoy the jazz on your station. A person can get almost any kind of music on the radio any time of day or night except jazz. If in the future you should decide to air more of it that would be just fine with me.

Ralph Erickson

To All You Jazz DeeJay's

Just wanted to tell you that there are several of us convicts over here at the United States Penitentiary, Mc Neil Island, who are jazz loving freaks, and we really enjoy being able to look forward to 10:30 each morning for a good music fix. Hope you get lots of donor money from your audience that's got that stuff called money. Keep up the good work, and best wishes for you all.

Sincerely,
Royal R. Roney, 08484-168

Gentlemen;

Just last week I bought a portable radio-with FM. Learning to use it, on Sunday morning, I "discovered" KRAB -- couldn't receive it on my old set. Specifically, I was delighted to hear well-remembered '78 recordings of the 20's and 30's.

Your low-key announcer, Frank OWEN (? is it ?) sounded too young to have nostalgic interest in the music he played, but I hope he enjoyed it, anyway.

I've no idea how long this broadcast has been on, but I hope it will continue. You can be sure this oldster will be a regular, and appreciative, listener from now on.

Thanks to KRAB and to Frank...

David E. Hobbs

(its Frank Olin--ed.)

To KRAB -- attention Paul Stanbery,

I tuned into the middle of a story entitled "Human-man's (or people's?? don't remember) Burden" March 15th, and listened to the end fuming with anger and hoping for some enlightened ironic twist at the end to reveal a true satire of the typical, sexist, man-perplexed-by-woman story. No such luck. It was mindless high school satire at it's best and confusing and dangerous for anyone tuning in without benefit of commentary.

The irresponsibility of KRAB in airing something as blatantly sexist, even in it's satire, as Sheckley's story and Stanbery's interpretation astounds me.

I listen and subscribe to KRAB as a relief from commercial radio. Perhaps there is no relief. I am seriously reconsidering renewing my subscription to an organization that see's fit to offend a large portion of it's supporters.

MOCKING A LAMB

NO SIR, NO SIR, NO BAGS FULL

A new program produced at KRAB by and for sheep. For many years sheep have been wantonly shorn of their coats to provide clothing for humans. Well, they've had enough! This is their program, it examines many of the traditional sheep-indignities of the past and deals with how to break out of the pen of the non-wolly power structure.

THE PRODUCERS

"SHEARING"

PREMIERS SUNDAY APRIL 31

LAMB TORTURE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Why build your own speakers? The person who builds his own speaker system has a substantial advantage over all his friends who buy theirs ready-made. While commercial speaker systems are very costly, the raw speakers that go into them are relatively inexpensive. Raw speakers are made of paper, steel and a few pounds of magnet material.

By paying only for the raw speakers and building his own enclosure (or getting one with a kit), the builder gets a better quality speaker system at lower cost. Once he has the raw speakers, a person of average intelligence finds the technology required to complete the system well within his grasp. A lot of the know-how you need can be found in this catalog.

No speaker system design is successful, no matter how good its performance, if the cost is so high that few people can afford to own it. That's how we feel at Speakerlab. We've chosen to help people build their own systems because it's the only way most stereo listeners can afford to get equipment of genuinely high quality.

Most speaker system manufacturers would like you to believe that they make everything themselves, but they do not. As JBL says in its test album, Sessions, "It is not commonly known, but there are very few manufacturers of loudspeakers in the U.S., and most of them do not sell to the public—rather, they sell in mass-production quantities to almost every company which in turn offers a loudspeaker system for sale. Most of those well-advertised famous names buy their speakers from someone you never heard of, put the famous name on the grille, and proudly go to market."

And, we might add, price the product far above the cost of the raw speakers.

So if you're handy with tools, we suggest that you buy only the raw speakers. Design the system and build the enclosures yourself. If you don't have the tools, skill, or inclination to manufacture the enclosures, there's another way to build your own speakers—from a kit. We make it all easy by boxing up a ready-made enclosure, speakers, and clear instructions all in one package.

And you can hear assembled examples of all our kits at any of our three Speakerlabs. Compare them to the big-name brands with your own ears right in our demo room and come to the conclusion we came to a long time ago: building your own gets you better sound and saves money.

Freeflight radio, keep us airborne.

KRAB is once again throwing common sense to the wind in the form of a Spring Marathon. This year there will be ten(10) days of specials and surprises guaranteed to boggle your mind and 'French' your ears. Accompanying the LIVE music and assorted insanity(whatever that is) there will be periodic requests for money in the form of pledges. The requests for pledges will vary in form and style, with the desperate beg being more common than the refined well constructed statement of need. All of us here at KRAB hope April 1st will mark the beginning of a prosperous and purposeful Spring. Anyone wishing to get involved with the Marathon, financially or otherwise, call us on the Marathon hotline--324-3660
